

Dear colleagues

Welcome to the new school year from the Redhill College of Leadership and Development (RCLD).

Our aim is to 'Raise the achievement of all students and pupils in our area and region by providing outstanding professional development for all staff, regardless of their role or career stage.'

Our vision is to be the first port of call for staff training for all educational settings. If you work in an educational setting, we want you to assume that the RCLD will be able to meet the training requirements of all your staff.

In order to achieve this, we offer training for primary and secondary teaching staff as well as all operational staff.

Please note, we have changed our membership options for this year. From now on, schools can choose the level of their membership, regardless of their association to any Multi Academy Trust. The details can be found below and over the page.

Our training involves a blend of face-to-face and online events. For teachers, this includes networking, conferences, leadership courses and workshops to develop teaching techniques. For operational staff, we aim to meet statutory training requirements, offer networking and conference opportunities and provide the relevant development for pathways through a variety of operational roles. We also want to give staff the skills needed to supervise and manage teams of people.

Full details of our offer can be found on our website, which links directly to our online booking system. The majority of our 2023-24 courses are available to book, however we continue to work hard to finalise the details of some courses which will be updated on the website as soon as possible.

We look forward to working with all our members to achieve our aim.

To join the RCLD, ask any questions or enquire about a bespoke offer please visit the website or contact us on office@rclid.org.uk.

Regards

Paul Crossley

Director of the Redhill College of Leadership and Development
